

How Expensive Is His Digital Footprint.

Ja Morants Digital foot print is expensive. He posts almost everyday on twitter and Instagram stories. Although he posts on stories and makes tweets he usually keeps his main posts on Instagram limited.

What Protection Does Ja Morant Use On His Account

Has his account ever been hacked

Ja morants account has never been hacked

Is his account private

His account has been public for a while limiting any personal pictures on there.

Has any personal information about him been leaked

No personal information about him has been leaked.

What Information Do They Want Us To See

What poses does he do in posts.

Ja Morant usually posts pictures of him playing basketball or sponsored pictures of his brand or another brand.

Does he show his house

Ja Morant posted a picture of his daughter in front of his garage. But does say anything that its his house

Do they put marks identifying there location

Ja usually never tags his location in a post. But everybody knows that he stays in Memphis because his basketball team is there.

Are there any identifying landmarks he posts.

He sometime may posts picture in a stadium at a different place for example L.A or maybe Toronto raptors but that's all.

Is Ja Morant an oversharer.

I would say that Ja Morant right now is not an oversharer. Most of the things he post is stuff the world already knows about. Ja limits his posts about his family posting it only on special moments.

What advice would I give Ja Morant about his digital footprint

The only thing I would tell Ja Morant to post where he is after he comes back to his house. That way if he posts exactly where he is at the moment people might say lets find his house and rob it because its empty.
